KEY TO ANNOTATIONS

1. Two U/I merchantmen. Clouds and obliquity make identification impossible, but the hull shape is not that of a combatant. Both ships appear to be of the same class.
2. Possible DD. The hull is that of a combatant and enough bridge area detail is discernable to allow a possible destroyer identification.
3. Possible U/I combatant.
4. Possible U/I combatant.
5. Possible U/I combatant.

NOTE: a. The hull outlines which are faintly discernable on items 3-5 resemble combatant hull designs more than merchant hull designs.

b. Reliable mensural data could not be obtained due to the extreme obliquity and haziness of the photography.
